Paul Binding (Univ. of Calgary)
Some eigenvalue problems for the p-Laplacian

The p-Laplacian eigenvalue equation is nonlinear, but its structure makes it interesting for linear and nonlinear people. The talk will cover some sources of the equation, review various results which do carry over (with modification) from the linear ones, and raise a few questions, for example about nonlinear algebra.