

Table 1: Development of the unadjusted and adjusted housing cost-to-income ratios according to the type of household living in rental sector in the period 1993 - 2001

	Unadjusted housing cost-to-income ratio (%)					Adjusted ^{*)} housing cost-to-income ratio (%)
	1993	1995	1997	1999	2001	1993	1995	1997	1999	2001
husband-wife families (head economically active)	14.0	13.2	15.2	17.7	18.4	10.7	10.2	11.7	13.4	13.2
husband-wife families (head economically inactive)	18.0	18.5	18.9	22.8	23.0	17.0	17.0	17.5	20.5	19.5
husband-wife families (economically active both head of the household and spouse)	11.3	11.2	12.3	14.4	14.6	9.0	8.9	9.8	11.1	11.1
one couple extend families	9.1	8.7	10.1	13.1	12.8	7.7	7.3	8.6	10.7	10.5
one-parent families with dependent children	15.6	15.2	17.2	21.3	21.0	11.7	11.4	12.6	14.7	14.7
living alone – male	19.3	20.0	22.0	22.9	25.1	16.3	16.0	16.8	17.4	19.0
living alone – female	23.2	22.6	23.5	27.1	27.5	18.4	16.7	18.2	20.0	20.0

Notice: *) „ratio 5“.

husband-wife families – families with both parents with/without dependent children;

one couple extend families – families with both parents with/without dependent children + other relatives (grandmother, mother-in-law etc.) permanently living in the same house/flat, or families with both parents and one or more economically active children.

Source:FSB 1993 - 2001.