

HISTORICKÝ ÚSTAV AV ČR, v. v. i.

INSTITUTE OF HISTORY AS CR, v. v. i.

invites you to the international scientific conference

Resettlement and extermination of the populations – a syndrome of modern history

11th – 12th November 2014
Vila Lanna, Prague

PROGRAMME

Tuesday 11th November 2014

8.30 – 9.00 Attendance of the conference participants

9.00 – 9.30 Start of the conference

Prof. PhDr. Eva SEMOTANOVÁ, DrSc., Director of Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

Doc. PhDr. Jan NĚMEČEK, DrSc., Deputy Director of Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

I. Resettlement and extermination of the populations - a syndrome in modern history into the 20th century:

Hosted by Prof. JUDr. Jan KUKLÍK, DrSc.

9.30 - 10. 00

Frontier Massacre and Forced Resettlement of Australia's Indigenous Populations.

Lyndall RYAN, Prof., Centre for the History of Violence Faculty of Education & Arts, University of Newcastle, Australia

10.00 - 10.30

Resettlement of the South Slavs in the new Russia in the Russian-Turkish war 1768-1774 years.

Elena BELOVA, doc., Ph.D., Faculty of foreign languages and international communication Sholokhov Moscow State University for the Humanities, the Russian Federation

10.30 - 11.00

"Hang, shoot, starve to death. Without exception!" The limits of modern biopolitics on the background of an uprising in German South-West Africa (1904-1908).

Radek SOBĚHART, PhDr., Ph.D., Department of Law and Political Science, Faculty of Social and Economic Studies, J. E. Purkyně University in Ústí nad Labem, the Czech Republic

11.00 – 11.30

Ethnic cleansing - symptomatic features and their external manifestations (within the context of historical experience and memory).

Michal ŠMIGEL, doc. PhDr., Ph.D., Faculty of Arts, Matej Bel University, Banská Bystrica, the Slovak Republic

Pavol TIŠLIAR, doc. PhDr., Ph.D., Faculty of Philosophy, Comenius University in Bratislava, the Slovak Republic

Branislav ŠPROCHA, RNDr., Ph.D., Demographic Research Centre – INFOSTAT Bratislava, Faculty of Philosophy, Comenius University in Bratislava, the Slovak Republic

11.30 – 12.20

Discussion

12.20 – 13.20

Lunch break

II. Resettlement and extermination of the populations - a syndrome in modern history in the 20th century:

Hosted by Prof. Lyndall RYAN

13.20 – 13.50

Resettlement and extermination of the population - syndrome in European history of the 20th century.

Outline of the problems.

Zlatica ZUDOVA-LEŠKOVÁ, doc. PhDr., CSc., Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

13.50 – 14.20

The Powers' schemes to solve the constitutional and national problems of Central Europe in 1914-1918/1919 (Germany, Austria-Hungary, Russia, France, Great Britain, the USA).

Petr PROKŠ, PhDr., CSc., Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

14.20 – 14.50

Displacement of the German population in Central Europe between 1944 and 1947.

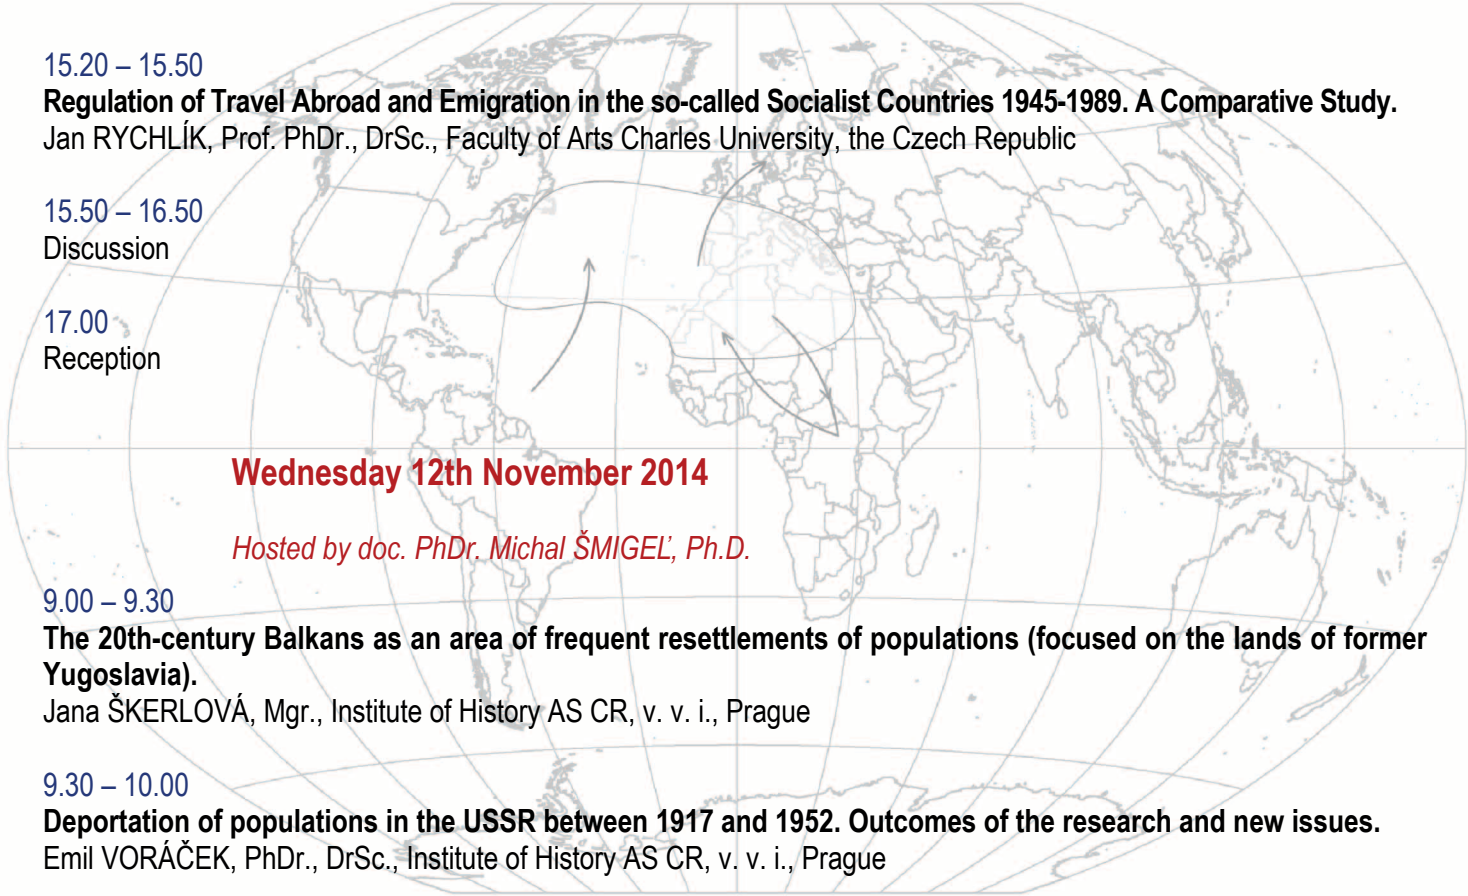

Jan KUKLÍK, Prof. JUDr., DrSc., Faculty of Law Charles University, the Czech Republic

Jan NĚMEČEK, doc. PhDr., DrSc., Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

14.50 – 15.20

Resettlement of Germans from "New Poland" in West and East Germany after WWII. Similarities and differences in treatments by the authorities and in results of integration.

Jörg ROESLER, Prof., Germany

15.20 – 15.50

Regulation of Travel Abroad and Emigration in the so-called Socialist Countries 1945-1989. A Comparative Study.

Jan RYCHLÍK, Prof. PhDr., DrSc., Faculty of Arts Charles University, the Czech Republic

15.50 – 16.50

Discussion

17.00

Reception

Wednesday 12th November 2014

Hosted by doc. PhDr. Michal ŠMIGEL, Ph.D.

9.00 – 9.30

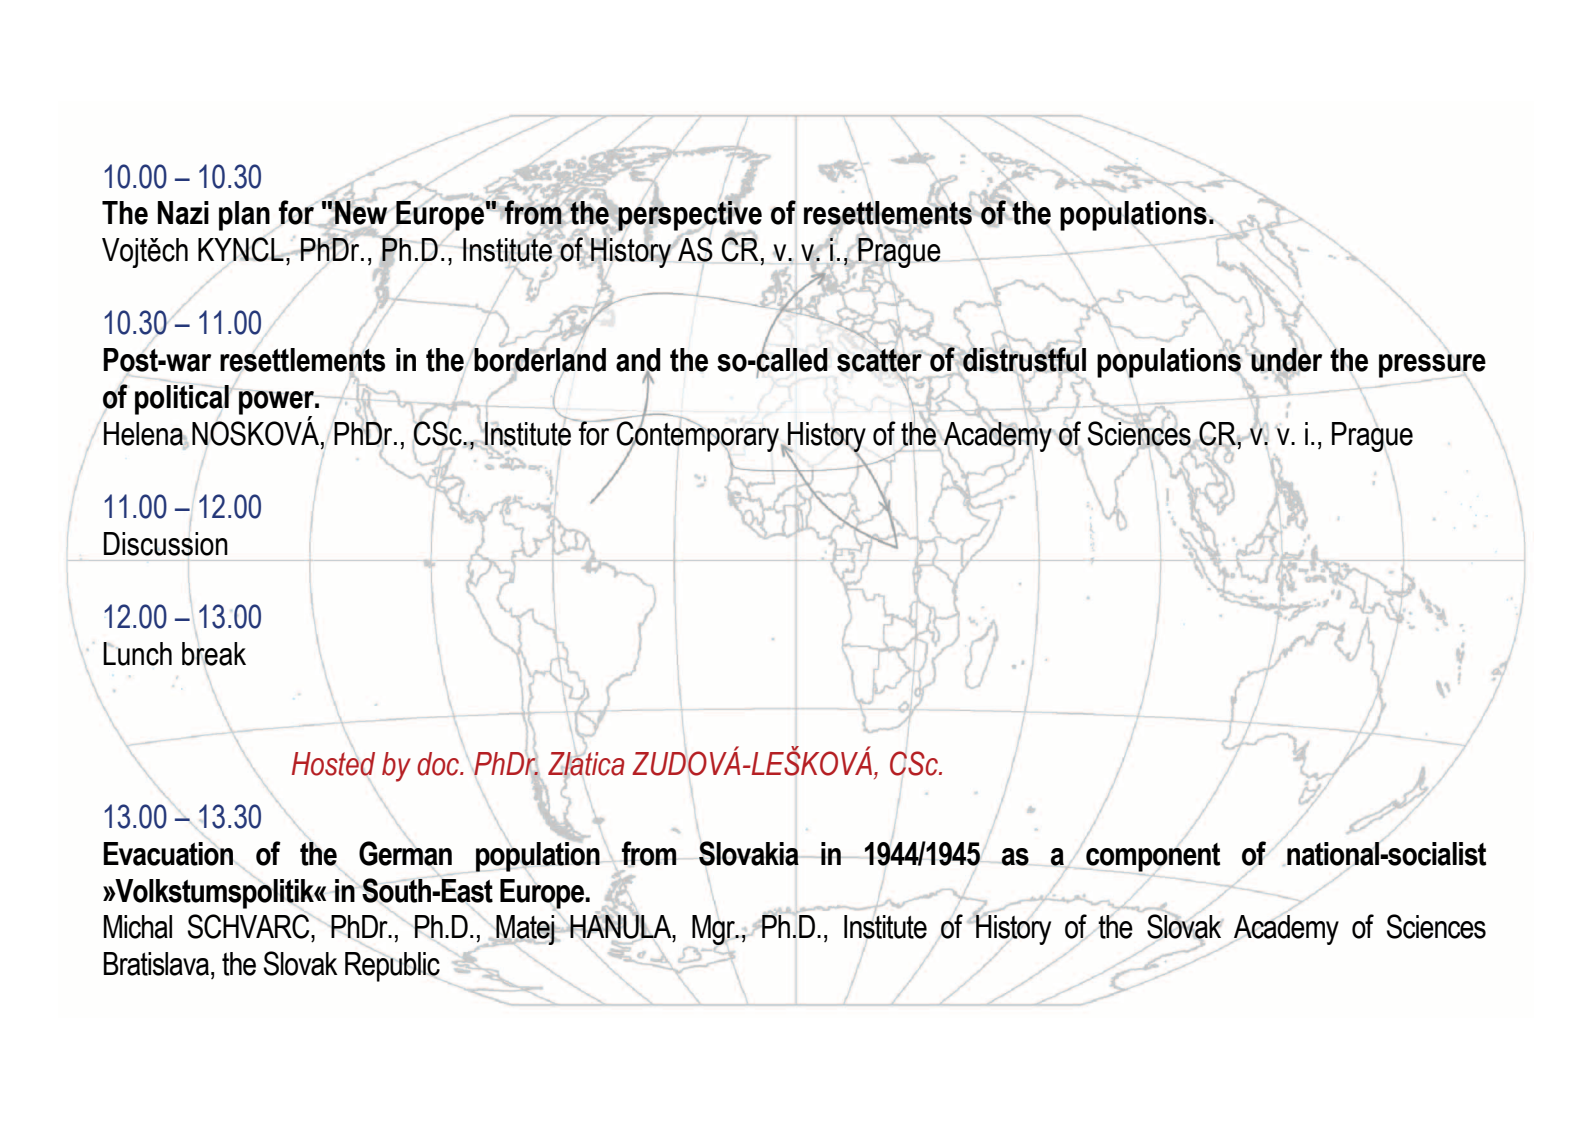

The 20th-century Balkans as an area of frequent resettlements of populations (focused on the lands of former Yugoslavia).

Jana ŠKERLOVÁ, Mgr., Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

9.30 – 10.00

Deportation of populations in the USSR between 1917 and 1952. Outcomes of the research and new issues.

Emil VORÁČEK, PhDr., DrSc., Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

10.00 – 10.30

The Nazi plan for "New Europe" from the perspective of resettlements of the populations.

Vojtěch KYNCL, PhDr., Ph.D., Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

10.30 – 11.00

Post-war resettlements in the borderland and the so-called scatter of distrustful populations under the pressure of political power.

Helena NOSKOVÁ, PhDr., CSc., Institute for Contemporary History of the Academy of Sciences CR, v. v. i., Prague

11.00 – 12.00

Discussion

12.00 – 13.00

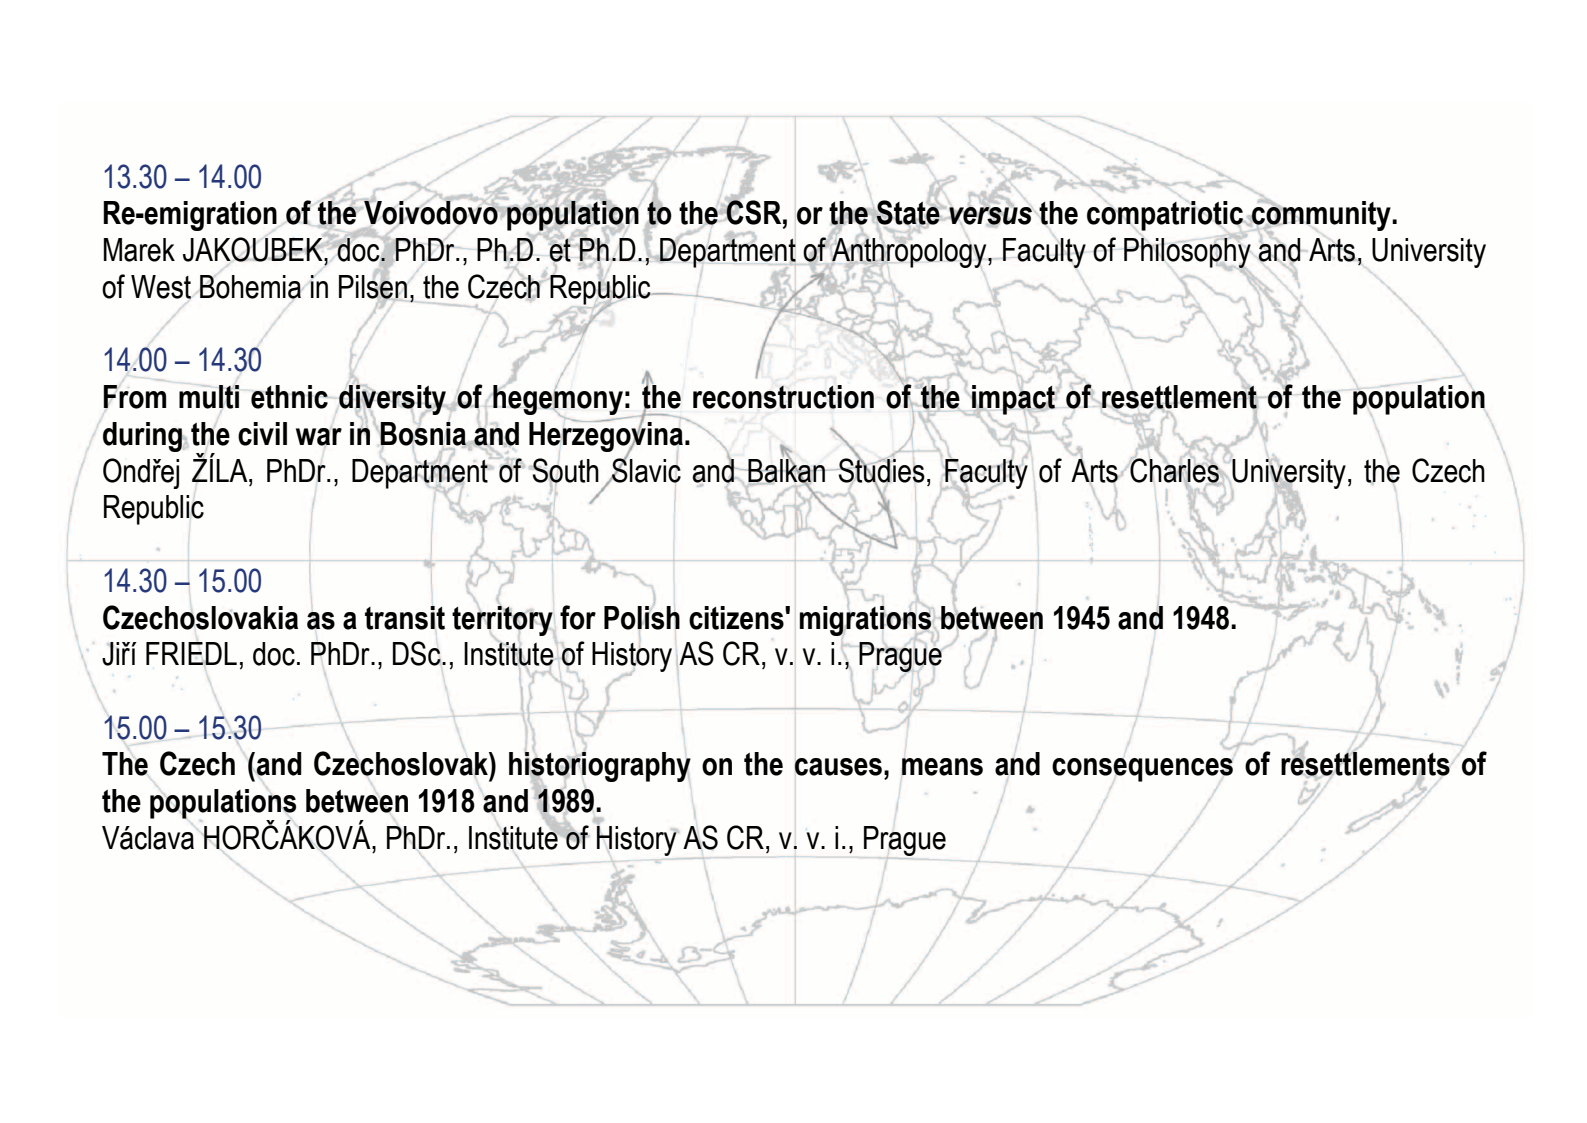

Lunch break

Hosted by doc. PhDr. Zlatica ZUDOVÁ-LEŠKOVÁ, CSc.

13.00 – 13.30

Evacuation of the German population from Slovakia in 1944/1945 as a component of national-socialist »Volkstumspolitik« in South-East Europe.

Michal SCHVARC, PhDr., Ph.D., Matej HANULA, Mgr., Ph.D., Institute of History of the Slovak Academy of Sciences Bratislava, the Slovak Republic

13.30 – 14.00

Re-emigration of the Voivodovo population to the CSR, or the State versus the compatriotic community.

Marek JAKOUBEK, doc. PhDr., Ph.D. et Ph.D., Department of Anthropology, Faculty of Philosophy and Arts, University of West Bohemia in Pilsen, the Czech Republic

14.00 – 14.30

From multi ethnic diversity of hegemony: the reconstruction of the impact of resettlement of the population during the civil war in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Ondřej ŽÍLA, PhDr., Department of South Slavic and Balkan Studies, Faculty of Arts Charles University, the Czech Republic

14.30 – 15.00

Czechoslovakia as a transit territory for Polish citizens' migrations between 1945 and 1948.

Jiří FRIEDL, doc. PhDr., DSc., Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

15.00 – 15.30

The Czech (and Czechoslovak) historiography on the causes, means and consequences of resettlements of the populations between 1918 and 1989.

Václava HORČÁKOVÁ, PhDr., Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

15.30 – 16.30

Discussion

Final summary

Zlatica ZUDOVÁ-LEŠKOVÁ, doc. PhDr., CSc., Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

Emil VORÁČEK, PhDr., DrSc., Institute of History AS CR, v. v. i., Prague

Please note the following:

Because of the conference room's limited capacity, the registration will be finished when the maximum number of participants have registered.

To reach the conference, take the Metro A line, get off at Hradčanská station and walk along Pelléova St., Prague 6.

Please keep the period determined for your paper.
