

nov. 2014, 6-7.

THE FIRST DECADES OF THE PRAGUE UNIVERSITY TRANSFORMING INTELLECTUAL SPACE IN 14.TH C. CENTRAL EUROPE.

Jilská 1, Prague, November 6-7, 2014

Sponsored by Institut für Mittelalterforschung of the Austrian Academy of Sciences and Grant Agency of the Charles University in Prague (No. 1124413)

Organised by Jan Odstrčilík (Austrian Academy of Science), Francesca Battista (Charles University in Prague) and Riccardo Burgazzi (Charles University in Prague), Centre for Medieval Studies of the Czech Academy of Sciences

Programme

Thursday, November 6

12:30-12:45 Registration, coffee

12:45-13:00 Opening

13:00-14:30 Session I: Henry Totting of Oyta as a philosopher and a theologian

William Duba (University of Nijmegen): Henry Totting of Oyta's Prague Lectures on the Sentences

Martin Dekarli (Prague): Henry Totting of Oyta and the Emergence of the Nominalistic Tradition in Central Europe between ca. 1370 and 1409

Iris Palenik (Universität Wien): Henry Totting of Oyta and his Disputatio catholica contra Iudaeos – Scholars and the Fight against Jews, Heretics and Disbelievers

14:30-15:00 Coffee break

15:00-16:30 Session II: Preaching of Heinrich Totting of Oyta

Jan Odstrčilík (Österreichische Akademie der Wissenschaften): Sermo de Nativitate Iohannis Baptistae

Francesca Battista (Charles University in Prague): Sermo de Assumpcione Virginis Marie

Riccardo Burgazzi (Charles University in Prague): Sermo de Passione Domini

16:30-17:00 Coffee break

17:00-18:00 Session III: Masters of the Prague University

Chris Schabel (University of Cyprus): The Cistercian Conrad of Ebrach's Prague Lectures on the Sentences

Dušan Coufal (Centre for Medieval Studies in Prague): Master Jan of Mýto and His Commentary on the Psalms (ca. 1400)

19:30 Dinner

Friday, November 7

9:00-10:30 Session IV: Prague University viewed by foreigners

Fulvio Delle Donne (Università della Basilicata): The Charters of Foundation of Prague and Naples: The Models and their Reuse

Daniela Pagliara (Università degli Studi "G. D'ANNUNZIO"): Uberto Decembrio: A Humanist in Prague at the End of the Fourteenth Century

Irene Malfatto (International Society for the Study of Medieval Latin Culture): John of Marignolli and the Historiographical Project of Charles IV

10:30-11:00 Coffee break

11:00-12:30 Session V: Transmission of Knowledge

Jakub Šimek (Universität Heidelberg): Instructing Lay Women: The German "Regimen vitae cum confessionali" by Heinrich von Bitterfeld

Lena Oetjens (Universität Zürich): Charles IV and learned order: the discourse of knowledge in Heinrich of Mügeln as a mirror of Prague's new University

Zdenko Vozár (Charles University in Prague): The Learned Magic and the Alchemy between and betwixt the University and the Courts: Interaction of Seats of Power, Wisdom and the Seats of Knowledge

12:30-14:00 Lunch break

14:00-15:30 Session VI: Historical aspects

Jiří Stočes (University of West Bohemia): Die magistri regentes an der Prager Artistenfakultät bis 1409. Ergänzung einer Analyse nach fast 50 Jahren

Andrea Bottanová (Universität WienUniversität Wien): Places of Learning, Places of Exchange. Universities of Vienna and Prague in their Early Years

Péter Szabó (Brno): The Effect of the University of Prague to the Hungarian Society in the 14th Century

15:30-16:00 Coffee break

16:00-17:00 concluding remarks, discussion
