

We would like to invite you to the 1st year of the Conference on Archaeology of Conflicts.

The topics are not only the battlefields and places of clashes, but also the problems of fortification architecture, material culture associated with conflicts, the impact of conflicts on the landscape, research of military-related production facilities, military camp research, graves connected with conflicts, etc. Chronological delimitation is broad, since prehistory until the end of the Second World War. Although the conference focuses primarily on archeological research, contributions from related disciplines are also welcome.

Conference date: 10th-12th September 2019,

Conference venue: University of Hradec Králové, Hradec Králové, Czech Republic

Deadline for abstract submission: 31th May 2019

Organizer: University of Hradec Králové, Department of Archaeology (uni.uhk.cz/archeologie)

Contact address: archeologie.konfliktu@uhk.cz

Registration fee: ...will not be charged

Form of presentation: oral presentation (max. 20 min) or a poster (ENG, GER, POL).

Accommodation and meals: Coffee shop is in the area of the university, restaurants can be found in the surroundings. Our tips for accommodation we will send in the 2nd circular during the June.

Preliminary programme of the conference:

1st day:

8:30 – 10:00 Registration

10:15 Beginning of the conference

since 19:00 - party

2nd day:

9:30 – Beginning of presentations

since 16:30 – walk through the former fortress of Hradec Králové

since 19:00 party

The discussion follows each post. Posters will be displayed parallel with the presentations.

3rd day:

Excursion: battlefield of Austro – prussian war from 1866, Josefov Fortress