

Fig. 6S. Kyoto encyclopedia of genes and genomes (KEGG) schematic of the photosynthesis-antenna proteins pathway. It's an analysis of differentially expressed genes (DEGs), comparing salt-treated samples to untreated control. Boxes with a green frame indicate the corresponding differentially expressed genes (DEGs) were down-regulated in the NaCl-treated samples and those without any colored frame indicate the expression level of corresponding genes were not changed, as determined by RNA-seq.