

Postdoctoral position in the EXPRO project

Abstract convergence schemes and their complexities

Appointment period: 12 months

Appointment type: Full-time employment contract

Starting date: July 1, 2022

Salary: CZK 50 000 per month

Deadline for applications: February 28, 2022

The Institute of Mathematics of the Czech Academy of Sciences (IM CAS) is seeking a researcher for the EXPRO project “Abstract convergence schemes and their complexities” coordinated by professor Wiesław Kubiś and funded by the Czech Science Foundation.

Applications are invited from the candidates who have completed their PhD within the last 5 years (or will have completed it before the time of hiring), and who have strong background in model theory and its applications, and/or set theory. Some knowledge of category theory is welcome.

We require verbal and written English communication skills and ability to work both independently and collaboratively. Publications, as well as other activities and professional achievements, will be judged by the stage of the applicant's career.

The successful applicant will be based at the Institute of Mathematics of the Czech Academy of Sciences, Prague, and perform mathematical research in the areas of the project. He/she is also expected to take part in activities of the Department of Abstract Analysis such as seminars and workshops organized by the group. No teaching is involved.

Questions and informal inquiries should be directed to Dr. Beata Kubiś, the Scientific Manager of the Institute, to her email address kubisb@math.cas.cz.

The following documents are required:

1. CV
2. list of publications
3. motivation letter (may contain a short research statement)
4. two letters of reference

Application for the position must be submitted exclusively using the electronic submission system at
